The time-honored abbey Ehrenstein, a place of contemplation and contemplation.

Culture and hospitality invite you to abide.

In a beautiful landscape, not far from the motherhouse in Waldbreitbach, the Franciscan nuns of the Most Blessed Virgin Mary from the angels live and work.

This Christian community, founded in 1863, has experienced a great upturn in the following decades and is today one of the largest companies in the health and social sector in Germany.

Water plays a very important, supporting role in most religions.
It stands as a symbol of healing and fertility, source of life and purity.

The wish of sister Therese, the matron in Ehrenstein therefore was:

"Best drinking water quality in the house and clear, pure water in the heating system."

According to this request, our distributor (Gerd Dienstbach) offered the installation of EWO DOLOMIT 5/4" in the drinking water main line and Vital 2 inches in the heating system.

In addition, two EWO Gourmet filter systems were mounted for the drinking water.

After two years of using EWO, Sister Therese states:

"The expectations set in EWO have been fully met.

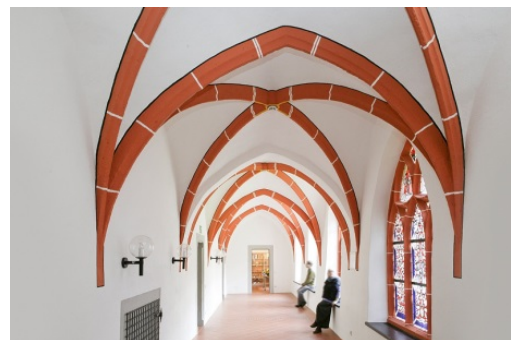

Thanks to the activated charcoal filter and the revitalization of the water, it now tastes excellent and we now have a good and safe feeling when drinking water.

The heating water became crystal clear again shortly after the installation of EWO and since then has remained clear.

We now feel the heat in the house as more pleasant and more harmonious.

Me and my co-sisters can recommend the natural-working EWO devices to everyone."
