„We have about 10,000 overnight stays a year and wanted to offer our guests and employees, of course, only the best water quality. First, a salt-based water softener was installed, which severely affected water quality and caused high, ongoing costs.

From our installer partner, the company Wicho from St. Pölten, an EWO device was recommended instead, which was then installed directly into the main water line. The costs for the water treatment and the limescale protection have been drastically reduced after installation of the EWO device.

We were a bit sceptical of this technology at the beginning, so we did not tell any staff members that the device was already installed and waited for the reactions.

The first response was from our cleaning company, who said that the lime stains can now be removed with a damp rag and they no longer need sharp cleaning detergents. Our hosts reported that the glass washer and coffee machine are no longer calcified. Many of our guests also noticed the improved taste of tap water.

These were the first immediate detectable effects of this device. Of course, we decided to leave the device installed because really only positive reactions have come up to us.“
